Gen. Wade Hampton's Letter.

The following is Gen. Wade Hampton's letter to Senator Reverdy Johnson, which the latter caused to be read in the United States Senate, as already stated:

WILD WOODS, MISS., April 21, 1866.

To the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, U. S. Senate:

SIR: A few days ago I saw in the published proceedings of Congress that a petition from Benj. Rowles, of Columbia, S. C., asking compensation for the destruction of his home by the Federal army in February, 1865, had been presented to the Senate, accompanied by a letter from Major General Sherman. In this letter General S. used the following language:—"They"—the citizens of Columbia—"set fire to thousands of bales of cotton rolled out into the streets, and which were burning before I entered Columbia. I myself was in the city as early as nine, and I saw these fires and knew efforts had been made to extinguish them; but a high and strong wind kept them alive. I gave no orders for the burning of your city, but, on the contrary, the reverse, and I believe the conflagration resulted from the great imprudence of cutting the cotton bales, whereby the contents were spread to the winds so that it became an impossibility to arrest the fire. I saw in your Columbia newspapers the printed order of General Wade Hampton, that on the approach of the Yankee army all the cotton should be burned, and, from what I saw myself, I have no hesitation in saying that he was the cause of the destruction of your city."

This grave charge made against me by General S. having been brought before the Senate of the United States, I am naturally most solicitous to vindicate myself before the same tribunal. But my State has no representative in that city. Those who should be there are debarred the right of entrance. In those halls there are none to speak for the South; none to participate in the legislation which governs her; none to impose the taxes she is called on to pay, and none to defend her or to vindicate her sons from misrepresentation, injustice, or slander. Under these circumstances I appeal to you, in the confident hope that you will use every effort to see that justice is done in this matter. I deny most emphatically that any cotton was fired in Columbia by my order; I deny that her citizens set fire to thousands of bales rolled out into the streets; I deny that any cotton was on fire when the Federal troops entered the city. And I most respectfully ask of Congress to appoint a committee charged with the duty of ascertaining and reporting all the facts connected with the destruction of Columbia, and thus fixing upon the proper author of that enormous crime the infamy he deserves.

I am willing to submit the case to any honest tribunal. Before any such I pledge myself to prove my positive orders, by direction of General Beauregard, that no cotton should be fired—that not one bale was on fire when Sherman's troops took possession of the city—tha the positively promised protection to the city—and that in spite of this solemn promise, his soldiers burned it to the ground, deliberately, systematically, atrociously. I, therefore, most earnestly request that Congress may take prompt and efficient measures to investigate this matter fully. Not only is this due to themselves and to the reputation of the United States army, but to justice and to truth. Trusting that you will pardon me for troubling you, I am, &c. WADE HAMPTON.

The reading of the above manly letter made quite a scene in the Senate. Mr. Fessenden protested. Mr. Sherman waxed exceedingly valiant against the absent man. He confessed he had never shed many tears over the burning of Columbia, (who ever supposed he did?) Of Hampton's letter he said:

The impudence of this whole thing surpasses imagination. He writes to this Senate that the State of South Corolina is excluded from representation in this body. And why is she excluded? Because they violated their oath, and have for years been trying to get out of the Union, and now that they are beaten and defeated they whine like whipped curs to get back.

Mr. Johnson said he had shown the letter to Mr. Sherman and he had advised him to present it.

Mr. Sherman. For the purpose of refuting it.

Mr. Johnson did not look upon the letter as whining because the State of South Carolina was not represented here. The writer had only alleged that as a cause for sending the letter to him. (Mr. J.)

Mr. Fessenden hoped it would not be received at all. It had no business here.

Mr. Conness said he could not vote to send this petition to any committee of this body, and he was only surprised that the Senator from Ohio (Mr. Sherman) should think it necessary to vindicate the character of our distinguished General against the assaults of such a man as Wade Hampton. Let these men expiate their crimes before they come here with their complaints.

Mr. Wilson hoped that the Senator from Maryland would withdraw the letter.

Mr. Johnson withdrew it.

A Thrilling Incident.

A contributor to the Atlanta Intelligencer concludes his "Reminiscences of the War, No. 2," with the following incident of the battle of Gettysburg:

"When General Longstreet advanced upon the Federal left, its first line was carried. But the enemy being heavily reinforced, rallied, and in turn drove our position of the line (Anderson's brigade) from the position, as well as other brigades on our right and left. Again we charged, and were again driven back. This was a critical moment for us; nearly all of our general officers were wounded. Our heavy line had crumbled to a mere handful, and the flower of Longstreet's corps lay welter ng in blood. We were slowly retreating, leaving many of our dead and wounded in the hands of the exulting foe. The hosts of the enemy came on like the mighty tides of the ocean, and the peans of victory were already rising from their haughty lips.—The blue hills in their rear were bristling with bayonets, and pouring torrents of reinforcements down their winding slopes. Now, when we should have been reinforced with thirty thousand troops, General Lee had not a man to send us. Officers broke their swords upon the rocks, and many of them wept. Our dead and wounded comrades lay around us by thousands, and it seemed as if there was no hand to save the shattered remnant from destruction. But aid did not come—a man—a solitary man threw himself before the juggernaut of Federal power, and alone, unaided, sought to stay its onward progress. I remember, as if it were but yesterday, the zouave cap and iron gray beard of the stranger. None knew him, but all idolized him for his bravery. He moved through the awful storm with a steady step, and his uplifted arm seemed to say to the advancing foe "thus far shalt thou come and no farther." He said nothing, but his godlike example made a hero of every man who saw him. Soldiers looked in the face of their comrades, and the question came simultaneously to their blackened lips "Who is he?" echoed right and left, far up and down the line. The enemy came on like a tornado, and the proud hero stood enveloped in their muskets like a lion at bay. Men forgot to reload their pieces or concealed themselves behind the rocks, but stood stupefied with wonder. "Who is he?" men groaned—"who is he?" officers repeated until the cry became fearful "General Lee," some one shouted, and the word ran along the line like an electric flash. "General Lee, forever!" rang loud above the battle's roar, and as one man our gallant soldiers rushed like a thunder bolt upon the astonished foe; "follow General Lee!" cried our wounded comrades, as they lay upon the trampled earth and tossed up their bloody caps. No body of men on the broad green earth could have withstood the terrible impetuosity of this onset. The Federal troops, though they fought desperately, were compelled to give back, and at last to retreat in confusion to the heights, leaving their dead and wounded in our hands.

But where was the stranger? "Alas! The paths of glory lead but to the grave." The war is over now, and the brave men whom we met that day as deadly enemies we now meet as friends. We would not detract one ray from the crown of the military glory that adorns each of their heroes, but would do justice to our lamented dead; and if, by this imperfect sketch, I can add one flower to the chaplet of a fallen hero's fame, I shall feel myself amply rewarded. And that hero—"who is he?" The answer comes up from the graves of Gettysburg—Gen. Paul J. Semmes.

Gross Deception.

But few of our readers are accustomed to read "The Chronicle," published at Washington by Forney, and they may not be fully aware of the grossness of the deception which that paper palms off upon its patrons at the North. Its first column is always filled with a letter signed "Occasional," written by the Editor himself. In its issue of the 2nd. inst., "Occasional" thus speaks of the recent report of the Reconstruction Committee, containing propositions for the degradation and destruction of eleven States of this Union:

"If I were permitted to tell you how many patriotic men from all parts of the Union, North and South, contributed to that report the fruits of conscientious reflection and long experience, including in the catalogue the first jurists, soldiers, publicists and Christians, you would attach to it almost a sacred significance. During yesterday, I conferred with some of those citizens, and it was gratifying to note how hopeful they were that the report would meet the approval of President Johnson, &c."

Who are these patriotic men of the South, who have contributed to, or who approve, the monstrous proposals of this report? What North Carolinian (we speak of the people of a State sincerely anxious for a restoration of her relations to the Federal Government on just principles,) has been consulted as to this report or has expressed his approbation of it? Was it any of her members elected to Congress,—the agents appointed by the Legislature and the people in the several districts to represent them in such deliberations? Was it any citizen who would be commissioned by the people to express their voice, or decide on their interests? Every one in the least degree acquainted with public sentiment and public men in this State will at once answer, No; nor do we believe that any such approval has been expressed by a single individual in any State of the South, who would be selected by his State or district to give their voice or his own on the questions involved in the report of this Committee. But the arch deceiver pretends to confidence and secrecy. He is not permitted to tell who those men are. Why not? The report is before the public. Why not let us know who are its authors? It seems the Committee are not; unless it may be in part. They are not "from all parts of the Union, North and South;" but from the North only. If they have have had assistance or have gotten approval from any "first jurists, soldiers, publicists and Christians," or any respectable minds or characters of the South, why not give the authority which would "attach to the report a sacred significance"? Why not name the authors as well as their counsels?

Until this is done, such effusions will be regarded as but the empty boastings of Forney's vanity, in affecting an intimacy with great men, and an attempt to deceive by the false pretense that the report of this Committee has any respectable support or sanction at the South.

We rejoice to see, as we have heretofore stated, that the President and Cabinet, including Mr. Stanton, Secretary of War, and excluding, perhaps, Mr. Harlan, have set their faces against this report, and in favor of the President's plan of reconstruction. Such mockery of the South as the report recommends shocks the sensibilities of even the pitiless "Minister of War."

IN RADICAL CONTEMPLATION, disloyalty has become synonymous with hostility to the negroes and opposition to the scheme of negro enfranchisement and equality. When they want to show the unfitness of the Southern whites for representation in Congress and restoration to the Union, they cite instances of bad treatment towards the freedmen, and when they cannot find genuine cases they manufacture them,—which answers their purposes equally as well.

The recent burning of two colored churches in Petersburg affords Forney and his crew a rare opportunity for the exercise of their vocation in this line. Now it is boldly, and, we have little doubt, truthfully, charged by the press of that City, that the incendiarisms were committed or procured by parties who are desirous of arraying the two races against each other and who are interested in making testimony for the Radicals, and we are glad to see that the authorities and citizens of our sister City are taking the proper steps to show their reprobation of the act, and their sympathy with the colored people in their loss. The Common Council has offered a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension and conviction of the guilty parties, and the citizens have contributed nearly $4,000 towards the work of re-building the churches. We think it probable that neither Forney, Sumner nor Stevens would contribute a cent to this work of charity. The negro will find out who has been, and is, his true friend, when the excitement, delusion and novelties of the hour shall have been dissipated.

THE CASE OF MAJ. GEE.—The correspondent of the New York Herald, who accompanies Gens. Steadman and Fullerton, says, of this case, that "the evidence given tends rather to exculpate than to criminate Maj. Gee in the atrocities committed at Salisbury."

GOLD closed in New York, on the 4th., at 127½. Cotton stood at 34 cents.

Ex-Gov. Holden's Positions.

We do not rejoice at the downfall of any one, and it is always pleasant to give due credit to the sound opinions or correct positions which may at any time be assumed by our opponents. It is, therefore, with pleasure that we direct the attention of our readers to the opinions declared by Ex-Gov. Holden to Gens. Steadman and Fullerton, in opposition to the continuance of the Freedmen's Bureau in this State, as given by the correspondent of the New York Herald in to-day's issue. We are the more gratified at this, because the animus of the Standard has been heretofore regarded as decidedly favorable to the continuance of the Bureau.

Has a change come over the spirit of the Ex-Governor's dream? Has he arrived at the conclusion that our people have become more loyal and more disposed to treat the blacks properly? What does he now think of continuing the military? He has been strongly in favor of it heretofore; has he thought better of it recently? We could hope that a radical, i. e. entire, change has taken place in his views. We hope that he is ready to do justice to the people of North Carolina now—that he sympathises more with the President and less with the Radicals; yet his article on the report of the Reconstruction Committee looks strongly as if he endorses the Radical Plan. We hope he is not ready to stand alone in the South in its defence.

Moreover, we learn that the Governor is becoming deeply concerned for the condition of the dear people. He expatiates, it is said, most piteously on the streets upon the poverty of the dear people, and their inability to pay their debts, and we understand is waxing warmer and warmer in favor of the utter repudiation of all debts, both public and private. Is that so? It will be recollected that he it was, who urged the President strongly to demand the repudiation of the State war debt, lest some of the few Union men in the State, who never wavered, should have to pay a little of it. It cannot be possible, therefore, that he advocates the repudiation of all just and loyal debts, because the "best government in the world" has stripped the people and made them the poorest of any people on earth. It surely cannot be so?

Gov. Worth at Washington.

We commend to the attention of our neighbor, the Standard, and to all who have been disposed to attribute less influence to Gov. Worth than to Ex-Gov. Holden, at Washington, the following interesting telegram. We may now, without impropriety, say that the 320 petitions which Gov. Worth found in the Executive office, on his entrance, were not only forwarded to Washington in a week after, but we learn that in three or four weeks they had all passed through the hands of the proper officers of the Attorney General's office, ready for the action of the President. Many petitions on file were recommended by Ex-Gov. Holden for suspension. As they were generally of the same classes of persons, as those which had been recommended for pardon by him, it occurred to Gov. Worth that they should all be treated alike, and therefore he recommended their pardon. If President Johnson and the friends of his policy have read the Standard for the last three months, they cannot be in doubt which is the best Union man, the most "unmistakably loyal man," and the best friend of the President and his policy, Gov. Worth or Ex-Gov. Holden. Read the telegram:

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The President has ordered pardons to be issued to all North Carolinians who had applications or petitions on file, and directed them to be completed and sent to the petitioners. They include all petitions from that State on file in the office of the Attorney General, several hundred in number.

THE WHOLE TONE and temper of the last issue of the Standard is "unmistakably" Radical. It objects to the term "malignants," as applied to the Congressional Jacobins; it virtually apologizes for their course of oppression and ruin, and declares that things are "getting worse and worse" in North Carolina. It publishes, without comment, an article from the Nashville Press justifying the disfranchisement of a large class of the people of the State of Tennessee, which fact, coupled with its quasi-endorsement of the report of the star-chamber Committee, is conclusive that it favors a similar programme of proscription and oppression in North Carolina.

If we could be astonished at anything in these degenerate days, we should be surprised at the fatuity and blindness of the Standard. In its persistent perversion of the feelings of our people, it undertakes a task more desperate than that of Sisyphus. His stone rolled back whenever he had carried it to the top of the hill.—The Standard's stone will not only roll back, but crush it to the earth. A newspaper which deliberately misrepresents the sentiments of the people of North Carolina, in spite of every declaration and protestation they can make, must be considered as signing the death-warrant of its own position and usefulness.

"DYING in the last ditch" is supposed usually to be "rebel" origin. So it is. It originated with that old reprobate, Brownlow, in one of his characteristic documents issued in 1856. He said:

"In our Southern States, where negroes have been set at liberty, in nine cases out of ten their conditions have been made worse; while the most wretched, lazy and dishonest class of persons to be found in the Southern States are free persons of color. I, therefore, go against the emancipation of slavery altogether, unless they can be sent to Liberia at once. I take my stand with the friends of the institution of slavery in the South. Connected with this question, I will go as far as the next man—even dying in the last ditch."

So, "the last man and the last dollar" suggestion is thought by some to be of Northern origin. This is a mistake. It originated with the Ex-Provisional Governor in one of his characteristic articles in the Standard in the early part of the war.

ROCK FISH.—The fishermen at Weldon are now catching large quantities of Rock fish. We saw several there, the other day, which must have weighed 60 to 80 pounds.

Gens. Steadman and Fullerton.—Freedmen's Bureau and Southern Loyalty.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, who accompanies Gens. Steadman and Fullerton on their mission of investigation through the South, writes a letter to that paper from Newbern, from which we make the following extracts. The letters of this correspondent are generally characterized by perfect truthfulness, and may be considered, from the semi-official relation of the writer to the officers of the Commission, as embodying their sentiments.

SENTIMENTS OF THE PEOPLE.

The general sentiment of the people of both North Carolina and Virginia is strongly in favor of the peaceful restoration of the Union.—During the last three weeks I have heard the opinions of some hundreds of representative men and those opinions have been in the main most satisfactory. They have been whipped and they know it, but do not feel disposed to run after the man who whipped them and thank him for doing it. It is not in human nature that they should do so. But they accept the issue as decided by the war, and, as one gentleman put it, he could not kick them into rebellion again. I incline to think that the only disloyal people in these two States are some few of the editors and politicians, who have done no share of the fighting. The most loyal are undoubtedly the officers and soldiers of the rebel army.

GOVERNOR HOLDEN ON THE SITUATION.

General Steadman and Fullerton, in prosecuting their inquiries into the working of the Freedmen's Bureau in North Carolina, have visited Raleigh, Salisbury, Goldsborough and Newbern, whence they proceed to Wilmington. At Raleigh they had an interview with Governor Holden and the leading citizens. Governor Holden said the great objection to the Bureau Court was that it was a one-man power. A planter might be dragged many miles to answer some frivolous charge preferred by a negro, and this charge would be disposed of before one man who was both judge and jurors. In the past he believed the Bureau had been of advantage to both races, but its further continuance would serve no useful purpose. The relations between the two races were now on the most satisfactory footing. There had been some danger, a little time ago, of an outbreak at Wilmington, prevented by negro soldiers; but this fear, which from the first had been somewhat exaggerated, had now passed away. The only disturbing element they dreaded now was further teaching and lecturing and agitation on the subject of social equality.

General Steadman—So far as I have seen, the people of the South, though opposed to negro social equality, grant him more social privileges than we in the North

Governor Holden—That is so, sir. We, who know the negro, know there is no possibility of his attaining social equality. In the North they don't know this and can't understand it. I spoke to a number of negroes the other day; I found them the quietest part of the people, industrious, docile and hopeful for the future.—I spoke to one of them, whom I had formerly owned, about voting. He replied, "I don't know how to vote, I've never been used to it; I should come to you."

The ex-rebel General Cox, who was present at the interview, intimated his concurrence in the views of Governor Holden.

AT SALISBURY

the citizens expressed themselves in warm terms of commendation of the manner in which the Bureau had been administered, but agreed that the necessity for its existence had passed by.—N. Boyden, a lawyer of large practice in the State, gave conclusive proof from the court records that before, during, and since the war, there had been a strong disposition towards leniency rather than severity in all cases in which negroes were concerned. One peculiarity of North Carolinian law was disclosed in the course of the discussion. There is no penitentiary in the State, consequently hanging and whipping appear to be the staple punishments, and every man who is not hanged is likely to be whipped. This applies, however, equally to white men as to negroes. The Legislature, at its recent session, made provisions for erecting a penitentiary and modifying the laws in this respect. Mr. Boyden, who was a thorough going Union man during the war, assured the government commissioners, and he was confirmed by the Mayor and the ex Mayor of the city, that if the Bureau were withdrawn perfect justice would be rendered to the negro in all the civil courts. There was only one instance in which he thought public prejudice might influence the administration of justice, and that was in cases where a negro was charged with a criminal assault on a white woman. The feeling in this respect was so strong that mere suspicion was too often taken as an evidence of guilt.

MATTERS ON THE MEND.

Bad as matters are, however, in the old North State, they are undoubtedly improving. There is a much greater breadth of land in cultivation this year than there was last, and with time, capital and energy will both probably return. The labor market is adjusting itself as satisfactorily as in Virginia. There are about three hundred and fifty thousand freedmen in the State, as nearly as can be calculated. Smallpox and other diseases have latterly thinned their ranks. Between five and six thousand infirm and helpless negroes, principally old people and children, are receiving relief from the Freedmen's Bureau. The able-bodied negroes are working by shares and by monthly contracts. They appear to be kindly and fairly treated by the planters, and in turn seem disposed to live peaceable and industrious lives.

THE Standard, of Saturday, not only publishes, without comment, the article from the Nashville Press, to which we have elsewhere alluded, but also a communication over the signature of "Yankee," which is an insult to this community, and the source of which would have been sufficiently manifest, without being disclosed by the signature. "It is an ill bird, truly, that befouls its own nest."

It is no wonder that the President has assembled his Cabinet at this extraordinary period, and evoked their views upon the present overwhelming and most vital issue. It is gratifying that the clear and determined grounds of the President against the usurpation of the Central Directory are so fully sustained by his constitutional advisers. Elsewhere it will be seen that, in view of the critical condition of our internal affairs, Secretary Stanton has, under direction of the President, given an important order in the behalf of liberty and law; and that he is strongly for sustaining the restoration policy of the President, which has been, as he states, agreed upon and consistently pursued by the Administration, and to effectuate which he is gratified that the President has convened the Cabinet to obtain their determination in the premises.—N. Y. Intelligencer.

The Mormons contend that polygamy is in accordance with the Declaration of Independence, which proclaims that the pursuit of happiness is an inalienable right.

Civil Authority Restored.

The following is the order referred to by us recently as having been issued by order of the President. It clearly defines the extent of military authority, and restores all the privileges and protection of the law to all citizens who have no connection with either the army or navy. At length, we breathe freely:

"WAR DEPARTMENT,
"ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
"WASHINGTON, May 1, 1866.

General Orders, No. 26:

"Whereas some military commanders are embarrassed by doubts as to the operation of the proclamation of the President, dated the 2d day of April, 1866, upon trials by military courts-martial and military offences, to remove such doubts, it is ordered by the President that—

"Hereafter, whenever offences committed by civilians are to be tried where civil tribunals are in existence, which can try them, their cases are not authorized to be, and will not be, brought before military courts-martial or commissions, but will be committed to the proper civil authorities. This order is not applicable to camp-followers, as provided for under the 60th Article of War, or to contractors and others specified in section 16, act of July 17, 1862, and sections 1 and 2, act of March 2, 1863. Persons and offences cognizable by the Rules and Articles of War, and by the acts of Congress above cited, will continue to be tried and punished by military tribunals as prescribed by the Rules and Articles of War and acts of Congress, herein after cited, to-wit:

"Sixtieth of the Rules and Articles of War.—All sutlers and retainers to the camp, and all persons whatsoever serving with the armies of the United States in the field, though not enlisted soldiers, are to be subject to orders, according to the rules and discipline of war.

* * * * * * * * *

By order of the Secretary of War.
E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General."

THE Old North State, edited by the Hon. Lewis Hanes, who, as our readers well know, has perhaps the most consistent Union record of any gentleman in the State, has the following just observations upon the report of the Obstruction Committee:

"The whole plan of the Reconstruction Committee seems to have been contrived to take advantage of our pecuniary distress, but it will, in our opinion, signally fail. It is strange that they should be so much mistaken in the character of the Southern people. On this question the great body of the Southern Unionists are against them. They are indeed strong in their attachment to the Union of their fathers. They are anxious for restoration and reconciliation upon the basis of the Constitution as it is. In this they are perfectly consistent. They opposed the Secessionists because they were opposed to the Union under the Constitution of our fathers. They now oppose the Radicals because they are opposed to the Constitution as it is. They regard the President as having been perfectly consistent throughout, and they are determined to sustain him. In regard to his policy there is no division in the Southern States that amounts to any thing. Our people are all united upon the National Union Johnson platform, and they will remain united, despite all the efforts of the Radicals to divide them. Let our people have patience; time will set every thing right."

IN THE RIVER AND HARBOR bill, now pending before Congress, there is but one item of appropriation for the Southern States. That is seventy-five thousand dollars to improve the mouth of the Mississippi river. This appropriation is one demanded by the Northwestern States, or it would never have been made. So that, save this item, there is not one cent to be disbursed under this bill to any of the eleven States now kept out by Congress! In this manner they are denied all participation in the Government save that of helping to support it, and to improve the Northern rivers and harbors, through taxes dropped in the Government coffers by the skinny hand of Poverty, and wrung almost from Famine itself.

The Riot in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, May 3.—About thirty houses occupied by colored people, and all the school houses in south Memphis, were pulled down or burned last night. Ten were killed during the day. Everything is quiet this morning. The negroes fled to the woods last night, but are now returning.

HEALING SPRINGS,

BATH COUNTY, VA.

This celebrated WATERING PLACE will be opened to visitors on the 1st June next.
It gives the undersigned great pleasure to inform the public that, with liberal expenditures by the proprietors, the attractions for the ensuing season will be such as to gratify both the invalid and those in search of pleasure.
The principal buildings are extensive and substantial, and, with beautiful cottages, will furnish comfortable accommodations for three hundred visitors.—They have all been painted and put in thorough repair, and the Bedding and Furniture in every department is new. The medicinal virtues of the waters are so generally and favorably known that it would be superfluous to enter into an elaborate statement on that subject; their efficacy is attested by numbers, who have found relief at this fountain of health from some of the most distressing maladies to which the human family is subject. For a detailed and particular account of the properties of the waters and their effects, reference is made to a pamphlet to be had on application in person or by letter to Messrs. Purcell, Ladd & Co., Richmond, who will always have a supply of the water for sale.
Complete arrangements have been made for Hot and Cold, Spout and Shower Baths, and Plunge Baths; and, in addition to the mineral waters, an abundant supply of the purest freestone water has been brought from a spring in the mountain, a mile distant, and at an elevation of a thousand feet. Every advantage has been taken of the flow of water to arrange for the comfort of visitors.
These Springs are delightfully situated in Bath county, surrounded by the most beautiful and picturesque scenery, and present altogether attractions at least equal to any place in the mountains of Virginia, occupying a central position in the group of mineral springs for which this portion of Virginia is so justly celebrated.
Three miles from the Hot Springs, eight from the Warm, thirteen from the Bath Alum, and twenty-eight from the Rockbridge Alum, they are of easy access by the Central Railroad and its connections to Milboro' Depot, and thence by stages over a fine turnpike road twenty-three miles to the Springs, passing on the route by the Bath Alum, the Warm and the Hot Springs, and crossing the Warm Spring Mountain. Every part of this route is connected with historical incidents of great interest, and the scenery is of unsurpassed beauty and grandeur
A Physician, experienced in the use and effects of the waters will reside at the Springs.
By the 1st of June there will be a daily mail, and a daily line of stages from Milboro' to the Springs.
The price of Board will be three dollars per day; children and servants in proportion. A deduction of 10 per cent. made on all bills for 30 days or over.
The Agent will spare no pains to render the place a comfortable and agreeable home and flatters himself, from his long experience and the advantages of the place, that he will be able to give satisfaction.

[Reported Expressly for the Sentinel.]

Trial of Major Jno. H. Gee.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

FORTY-SECOND DAY.

SATURDAY, May 5th, 1866.

Examination of W. H. Hauser, continued:—The hospitals and bakeries of the prison were supplied by Capt. Goodman with wood. It was hauled to hospital, bakery and to guard on duty by wagons. Major Morfit supplied the other parts of the prison.

Have known Maj. Gee to come to Goodman for wood, on several occasions. He appealed, saying the poor fellows were suffering, and if not supplied, he could not be responsible for them. At one time he came about 8 or 9 o'clock, at night. I have known him to apply for both wood and lumber on several other occasions.—He said, "Captain, can't you supply me, I'm in great need of it—the prisoners are suffering?" He generally seemed to impress on the Quartermaster the great need, and that it was his duty to get it for them. I have heard him ask if there was no way to get quartermaster's supplies—blankets, clothing, shelter or something?—Captain Goodman said there was no way to get them. A great deal of wood was hauled by the teams. I can't say how many cords.—There must have been 400 or 500 cords at the wood-yards prior to the arrival of the prisoners. It was all hauled to the garrison. After the arrangement was made with the Railroad, our teams did not haul from the wood-yards.

A squad of prisoners of war was detailed to work with me. They said they had had nothing to eat all day. I reported it to Capt. Goodman and he sent me to Maj. Gee. He asked why they did'nt have it. He sent his orderly to the cook-house to order them to get double rations for that day and the next. Maj. Gee said to give them a drink of spirits in the cold, as well as the rest, that he did not want them to take it into prison. He said he did not object to their taking anything else in.

He made requisition after requisition on the Q. M. for straw. It was so scarce that we could not buy—what we got we impressed. We got some straw 8 or 9 miles off the river, and impressed the teams to bring it in. On one occasion, when Capt. Haynes was acting for Capt. Goodman, Maj. Gee made a requisition for straw in writing. Capt Haynes told me I must go and get the straw from a lady who had some. A man was sent out and she refused to let us have it. She did send it in, however, the next morning. Maj. Gee's letter was, that the prisoners were suffering and that they must have it, if it could be found—if it was necessary, that he would furnish a guard.

Our stables were diseased from the animals that had been there. They were pulled down and new frames erected in September, but not finished in a long time. Maj. Morfit came to the office and said he wanted 12,000 feet of lumber in 20 days. Capt. Goodman laughed and said he'd be lucky if he could get it in twenty months. He said he never could keep hands at the mills, and could not get supplies for them.

The prison officials came very often to the quartermaster's office. Nichols came frequently. Several times at night. He said he did not haul in the day time, because the supplies came on the W. N. C. R. R. Duke, Major Gee's orderly, hardly ever missed a night.

We were so short that, sometimes, we could hardly draw at all. We were never short before the prisoners came there. Goodman wrote to Myers saying he could not keep his men unless they were supplied, that they could not buy in the market; Myers wrote on the back of the note that he expected some from Concord that night and would supply us.

We got 1 lb. flour, and ½ lb. meat. We drew a month's rations at a time, but they cut us down to 10 days. Before they cut us off entirely, they would put us for a day or two with half rations. It became of frequent occurrence. Some of the hands proposed to take sorghum for rations, but the issuing clerk said that was for the prisoners, because they were in prison and could not look around for themselves, but we, who were outside, could.

[We are compelled to defer the conclusion of this day's testimony until our next.)

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Alamance Classical School: See advertisement of Rev. C. H. Wiley. Mr. W.'s connection with this school is a guarantee of its superior advantages.

W. H. Cunninggim offers a four-horse power Portable Steam Engine for sale.

Mrs. M. D. Peirce offers Furniture, Mattresses, &c., for sale.

Pulliam, Jones & Co. announce other importations.

UNIVERSITY OF N. C.—The Hon. G. A. Henry, of Tennessee, has been compelled to decline the invitation to deliver the Annual Address before the two Literary Societies of the University at the approaching Commencement.

Ex-Gov. Vance has now been solicited, and it is hoped that he will be able to accept.

BANK OF CAPE FEAR.—A general meeting of the Stockholders of this institution was held in Wilmington, on the 3rd. The representation of stock was as follows: In person 998 shares. By proxy 5,033. State of North Carolina 5,444. Total represented 11,475. T. H. Selby Esq, of this City, represented the stock of the State.

We learn that the Directors of the Bank were authorized, whenever, in their discretion, they think proper to do so, to accept the provisions of the act of the late Legislature "enabling the banks of the State to close their business."

A NEW RAILROAD.—A project is on foot to build a Railroad from Tarboro to Williamston. This would bring Edgecombe in close proximity to Norfolk; but such a Road would be too short to pay, and would considerably interfere with the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and the business of our own sea-port towns.

RAILROAD STREET.—The A. & N. C. R. R. Co., have had, at their own expense, all the trees standing on either side of the Railroad from the river bridge, neatly whitewashed. The coating extends from the ground about ten feet up, and adds very much to the appearance of the street. All shade trees throughout the city should receive the same attention.—Newbern Times.

We notice that several citizens, merchants and others, have adopted the same plan in this City. The white-washing gives an air of neatness and cleanliness that is quite refreshing. We are not sure but that the idea is a good one, in a sanitary point of view.

GENERAL NEWS.

NORFOLK, VA., May 3.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, accompanied by her youngest daughter and servants, arrived at Fortress Monroe this morning, and stopped at the Hygeia hotel. Shortly afterwards she was admitted into the Fort. What transpired on her meeting with her husband is unknown. The length of her stay has not been ascertained. She will be entertained during her visit by the Surgeon of the Post, inside the Fort. She left her other children in Montreal.

THE NEW YORK PRESS AND RECONSTRUCTION.—The Tribune is the only one of the large New Yorks dailies, we believe, that advocates the plan of reconstruction reported by Thad. Stevens' committee. The Herald, the Times, the World, the News, the Evening Post, and we believe the Journal of Commerce and the Commercial Advertiser, all denounce it in strong language.

The Courrier des Etats Unis, speaking of the "Reconstruction Programme," so-called, says that it has not advanced the question of reconstruction a single step, but if possible, has increased the gulf which separates the President from Congress.

The Secretary of War has been requested to have the proceedings in the Wirz trial "prepared for publication.

There is a vast significance in that word "prepared."

GENERAL HOWARD AT THE AFRICAN CONFERENCE.—In an address to this body on Monday, in Washington, General Howard said: "The civil rights bill was a good thing, like the magna charta, looking bright and reading well. It will read well a thousand years hence, when people will point to it as the beginning. But it must be executed. When it is executed fully in Kentucky that State will be free, and so in Maryland. There is great danger that it will not be executed."

To whom does General Howard refer when he speaks of its not being executed—to President Johnson or the Supreme Court?

EXCITEMENT IN COLUMBIA.—Considerable excitement was caused in Columbia, S. C., a few days ago, in consequence of the stabbing of two merchants of that city with a sword cane, by a negro. One of them was dangerously wounded.

At Mobile, on the 20th instant a boy scarcely fifteen years old was hanged for the murder of another boy of thirteen.

A young lady in California broke her neck while resisting the attempt of a young man to kiss her. A fearful warning.

The indications in the Senate are that a strong effort for the expulsion of Garrett Davis will be made by the Radicals.

A rumor is being circulated that Lieutenant General Grant has said that Congress must increase the army, as he could not get along without more troops. Not true.

General Frank Blair, it is said, will be the next Conservative candidate for Governor of Missouri.

Punch mentions a great financial reformer who is so devoted to figures that when he has nothing else to do he casts up his eyes.

A BOSTON PARSON ON THE CHIEF MAGISTRATE.—A Boston preacher named Hepworth thus speaks of the President:

"The President has hinted at assassination.—Oh, Mr. President, you will never be killed. Only the good and the great die. You will live forever. (Applause.) He calls himself a self-made man. We can well believe it, for it is no credit to have made him."

There is evidently a dislike growing up among the Puritans for President Johnson. It must be very distressing to the President to find himself in such a position.

Captain T. W. Greenwood, U. S. A., is on trial before a court martial, at Mobile, for receiving property stolen by soldiers at Bladen Springs, Alabama, knowing it to be stolen, and screening the thieves.

Mrs. Mowatt Ritchie is at present residing in London, being prevented by ill health from accepting offers both in this country and in England, to re-appear on the stage.

The remark that "Treason never prospers, or when it prospers none dare call it treason," has been attributed to Jefferson Davis. The Albany Evening Journal says it may be found in a letter of Lord Cobham, written during the reign of Henry IV., of England.

A marriage recently took place in South Carolina, wherein the bridegroom was eighty-eight, the bride fifty-five and the parson eighty-five.—It was a run-away match—the parents of the blushing damsel being averse to it.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—If the Committee of Reconstruction require any additional proof (and it seems they do) of the "loyalty" of the South, we respectfully make the following suggestion and recommendation:

Let our Senators, Messrs. Graham and Pool, select some half dozen of the most prominent of our citizens; of such as were secessionists, in the proper meaning of that word, or who became war men upon the issuing of President Lincoln's proclamation calling upon North Carolina for troops, or after the return of the Peace Commissioners from Washington City; let the committee forth with summon them before them; and then and there examine them as to the true "status" or political complexion of our people.

In making the selection, our Senators will, of course, select none but gentlemen of high social position, and of unimpeachable character, and will take them from different parts of the State.

Testimony, thus furnished, would come representing the feelings of our people, from the Seaboard to the Mountains, and surely evidence, thus exhibited, and from such a source, could not fail in having its proper effect upon the Committee.

Having done this, we can do nothing more, but "bide our time."

JUNIUS.

[Our Correspondent, at the time of writing the foregoing, had not seen the report of the Committee. His suggestion is an admirable one, but, even if adopted, would have been without effect upon that inquisitorial concern.]

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 3d.—SENATE.—The Bill to establish telegraphic communication with Cuba, reported from the Committee of Conference, was passed, and now awaits the signature of the President.

Other proceeding were generally unimportant.

HOUSE.—Mr. Stephens, of Pa., offered a resolution extending the congratulations of the American Congress to the Emperor of Russia and to the Russian serfs on the occasion of the recent escape of the Emperor from assassination.

Mr. Ross, of Ill., insisted upon the reference of the resolution to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, whereupon Mr. Stevens withdrew it.

The bill for the admission of Colorado was taken up and passed.

POSTAL APPOINTMENTS.—The Postmaster General has appointed and commissioned the following Postmasters:

C. F. McLaughlin, Miranda, Rowan county, N. C.

An Extraordinary Statement in Regard to Rheumatism and Pleurisy.

Peter Vaden, Esq., Dinwiddie county, Va., (Nov 6, 1865) says: "In August 1857, my wife, aged 66 years, was taken ill with what the doctor called a Bilious Rheumatism affecting her whole system; rendering her entirely helpless, so much so, that she had to be lifted and fed as an infant, for the pace of three months, suffering the most excruciating pain; her hands drawn out of shape and stiff, so that she could not use them. After all other remedies failed in January, 1858, I was advised to get the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS for her. She used the Pills strictly according to the directions accompanying them, and we soon discovered a change for the better, and in one month's using she was well, and continued so up to the present time; has become healthy, cheerful, and as active as one could be of her age. One of my servants was taken with a violent attack of Bilious Pleurisy. I gave him those Pills, and in about ten days he was up and at his work; said that he felt as well as he ever did, and has continued well ever since.—Another was taken with Pleurisy. I gave the Pills, and she was well and at her work in ten days after she commenced using them. My Doctor's bill has been heretofore from $175 to $98 per year. I have used them in my family which consists of eighteen white and colored, and have not called in a doctor during he year. This is a great saving. They certainly are the best family medicine ever discovered. After a fair trial I can recommend them as such."

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his ex raordinary Pills, and cure the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast supersoding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the so called remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

COTTON GINS,

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE have received the manufacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore, represented by traveling agents, parties wishing our Gins, will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand, we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash, our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivalled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed, light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLINDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed. In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DEROSSET & CO., Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLIA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs at once into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp; and if issued after the 30th of June, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot be afterwards effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument to appropriately stamp it renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original processes, severally require stamps.

Writs of seire facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificates of loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be fixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by any one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case, a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General

Commission Business, in this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships; between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered
